How Does Alice Bailey's Ten Point Plan, Allegedly Linked to the Illuminati, Threaten Christianity?

Sixbert SANGWA, PhD • January 14, 2024

In recent years, there has been a growing awareness among Christians about the insidious influence of the Illuminati, an alleged secret society with a sinister agenda to control the world. While some may dismiss it as a mere conspiracy theory, as a believer rooted in the truth of God's Word, I urge you to open your eyes to the signs of the times and discern the spiritual battle that is raging around us. Please remember, beloved friends, that the serpent was the most cunning of all the wild animals that the LORD God had made (Genesis 3:1). The devil has indeed always sought to destroy what God has put in place since creation.

The Ten Point Plans, commonly known as the Illuminati's Ten Point Charter, serve as a cornerstone within the New Age movement, allegedly engineered to dismantle Christianity and inaugurate the reign of the Antichrist under the guise of the New World Order. This strategic charter, attributed to Alice Bailey (1880 – 1949), a professed member of the Illuminati and revered as a pivotal figure in the inception of the New Age movement, bears profound implications for the spiritual landscape. But who exactly was Alice Bailey before she became entwined with the enigmatic fabric of the Illuminati?

Alice Bailey, a prominent figure in the realm of occultism and theosophy, emerged from the esteemed La Trobe-Bateman family, steeped in British aristocracy. Her journey into the mystical began at a tender age, with a mysterious encounter at 15—a visitation by a tall figure clad in European attire, adorned with a turban. This enigmatic visitor imparted wisdom, urging her to cultivate self-mastery for a profound purpose yet to unfold. Little did she know, this encounter would set the stage for her extraordinary literary odyssey—a collection of 24 books aimed at reshaping spiritual paradigms, particularly Christianity. Despite her initial involvement in evangelical endeavors affiliated with the YMCA in her early twenties, Bailey's path veered towards the esoteric currents that beckoned her soul. Following her divorce from Walter Evans, an Episcopalian priest, Bailey found solace and inspiration within the folds of the Theosophical Society's Esoteric Section in 1917. It was here that she embarked on her prolific journey of exploration into esoteric wisdom, spurred by the rich tapestry of Theosophy, the doctrine of reincarnation, astrological insights, and a nuanced interpretation of Christianity. Bailey's indelible mark on the spiritual landscape is epitomized by her coinage of the term "New Age" within the pages of her divinely inspired writings. Claiming telepathic communication with a Master of Wisdom, a spiritual entity known as Djwal Khul, she penned texts revered as foundational pillars within the New Age movement. Her influence transcended mere literary acclaim, permeating the realms of society, economics, spirituality, and politics, notably within the corridors of power at the United Nations. In here seminal work, Discipleship of the New Age (1955) , Alice herself claims her authority in the United Nations: "… Within the United Nations is the germ and the seed of a great international and meditating, reflective group—a group of thinking and informed men and women in whose hands lies the destiny of humanity. This is largely under the control of many fourth ray disciples, …" (see page 129). This is what earned her recognition as a prophetess of the New Age movement. In 1922, alongside her second husband, Foster Bailey, Alice Bailey founded the Lucis Trust. Initially known as the Lucifer Publishing Company, this organization continues to exert its influence within the United Nations, perpetuating Bailey's vision of a harmonious global community guided by enlightened principles.

Returning to our topic, one of the main goals of the New World Movement is the creation of a single world religion, which should become dominant in influencing lifestyles and instilling new values in people around the world. However, for new philosophies to become dominant, other religions, especially Christianity, must either be destroyed or lose their spiritual influence within society and individual lives. It was from this desire to see the dominance of the New Age movement that Alice Bailey wrote a 10-point plan/charter (or strategy) to destroy Christianity so that New Age philosophies could become the one global religion for the world.

The purported "ten-point plan of the Illuminati" outlines a diabolical strategy to undermine biblical principles and establish a new world order contrary to God's design. Let us examine each point through the lens of Scripture and see how governments of the world are being urged to implement this plan: Below you will find the ten strategies and their relevant descriptions followed by our notes.

I. TAKE GOD AND PRAYERS OUT OF A CHILD'S EDUCATION: Change curriculum to ensure that children are freed from the bondage of Christian culture. Why? Because children go to school to be equipped to face life, they are willing to trust and they are willing to value what is being given to them. If you take God out of education, they will unconsciously form a resolve that God is not necessary to face life. They will focus on those things the school counts them worthy to be passed on and they will look at God as an additional, if one can afford the additional.

Note: The Bible cautions us in Colossians 2:8, urging vigilance against falling prey to "hollow and deceptive philosophy" rooted in human tradition and worldly ideologies rather than Christ's truth. Sadly, modern educational systems increasingly embrace secular narratives that reject divine truths and moral absolutes. This trend aims to influence the impressionable minds of the youth, steering them away from prayer and genuine faith in God. Notably, these efforts are evident in the promotion of alternative theories like evolution, which seek to supplant religious narratives with scientific materialism. Moreover, initiatives such as the introduction of practices like Transcendental Meditation (TM) in schools, touted for their spiritual benefits, may inadvertently expose individuals to malevolent spiritual influences. This infiltration of New Age ideologies poses a direct challenge to the scriptural directive found in 1 Thessalonians 5:17, emphasizing the importance of maintaining an unbroken connection with God through prayer. Additionally, the Bible admonishes against prioritizing worldly wisdom over God's truth, as highlighted in 1 Corinthians 3:19). This caution serves as a stark reminder that while secular knowledge may offer insights into the workings of the world, it pales in comparison to the eternal truths revealed through divine revelation. Therefore, as believers, we must remain steadfast in our commitment to God's Word and guard against the subtle deceptions that seek to undermine our faith.

II. REDUCE PARENTAL AUTHORITY OVER THE CHILDREN: Break the communication between parent and child. Why? So that parents do not pass on their Christian traditions to their children, liberate children from the bondage of their parent traditions. How? (a) Promote excessive child rights; (b) Abolish corporal punishment and (c) Teachers are the agents of implementation.

Note: The biblical mandate for parents to guide their children in the ways of the Lord, as stated in Proverbs 22:6, underscores the vital role of parental authority in instilling godly values and principles. Any erosion of parental authority represents a direct assault on the sanctity of the family unit and the teachings of Scripture. Such a tactic is strategically designed to cultivate a generation lacking in discipline and reverence for authority, as respect for authority begins within the family structure. (a) This erosion of parental authority is exemplified by the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC), touted as the most comprehensive statement of children's rights in history and widely ratified. Regrettably, this has led to a distressing reality where children assert their rights over parental guidance, refusing to heed parental counsel or admonition. In educational settings, teachers find themselves hamstrung, unable to discipline students who invoke their rights. (b) Moreover, the abolition of corporal punishment, contrary to biblical teachings (Proverbs 13:24; 23:13-14; 29:15), further weakens parental authority and undermines the biblical principle of discipline. This departure from scriptural guidance leaves children without the corrective measures necessary for moral and spiritual development. (c) Additionally, contemporary educational philosophies, influenced by New Age ideologies, aim to sever the ties between children and parental guidance. Teachers, acting as conduits for these ideologies, espouse notions of individualism and autonomy, encouraging children to reject parental values and beliefs in favor of self-discovery and personal fulfillment. There are commonly used words like: "You have a right to choose the religion of your parents or not", "your parents have no rights to force you into their beliefs", "You are self", "You need to discover yourself", "You are free to choose whatever you want in life". Self-expression, self-realization, self-fulfillment are buzzwords a child will use to express themselves. Such teachings align with the prophetic warnings of 2 Timothy 3:1-5, foretelling a time of heightened rebellion and disobedience towards parental authority. In essence, the undermining of parental authority represents a strategic ploy to weaken the foundational structure of society and foster a generation disconnected from the timeless wisdom of Scripture. As believers, it is imperative that we remain steadfast in upholding the biblical mandate for parental guidance and discipline, recognizing its indispensable role in shaping the moral fabric of society.

III. DESTROY THE JUDEO-CHRISTIAN FAMILY STRUCTURE OR THE TRADITIONAL CHRISTIAN FAMILY STRUCTURE: The Christian family structure is oppressive and is the core of the nation. If you break the family, you break the nation. Liberate the people from the confines of this structure. How? (a) Promote sexual promiscuity – free young people to the concept of premarital sex, let them have free sex, lift it so high that the joy of enjoying it (sex) is the highest joy in life, fantasize it, that everybody will feel proud to be seen to be sexually active, even those outside of marriage. (b) Use advertising industry, media – T.V., magazines, film industry to promote sexual enjoyment as the highest pleasure in humanity. (c) Reduce Family Communication - Break communication between the parents and child so parents cannot pass on spiritual values to their children. Occupy both parents with worldly affairs, mortgage repayments, mother returning to work. Occupy the child with a games console, smartphone, and extra-curricular activities.

Note: Have their efforts yielded success? (a) The relentless promotion of sexual immorality has undeniably resulted in a surge of societal ills, including rampant teenage pregnancies, widespread adultery, and pervasive fornication. These destructive behaviors not only fracture marriages but also contribute to the proliferation of single-parent households and a soaring divorce rate. Schemes such as Adolescent Sexual and Reproductive Health (ASRH) and Sexual and Gender-based Violence (SGBV) serve as insidious tools employed to undermine the sanctity of the family unit. Moreover, the propagation of abhorrent practices like same-sex marriage and the normalization of LGBTIQ+ lifestyles further erode the foundation of godly marriage, as delineated in Genesis 2:18-25. In the traditional Christian family structure, each member has a distinct role, as outlined in Ephesians 5:22-33, fostering harmony and order within the household. (b) Additionally, the proliferation of pornographic material via the internet and media advertisements inundates society with sexualized imagery, perpetuating a culture of objectification and immorality. Even innocuous advertisements exploit sexual connotations to provoke salacious thoughts, saturating the public sphere with sensuality and temptation. (c) Furthermore, deliberate efforts to disrupt family communication through orchestrated crises such as wars, famines, diseases, and calamities serve to exacerbate societal disarray. However, amidst the chaos, the timeless wisdom of Psalm 119:105 rings true, affirming the enduring guidance of God's Word as a beacon of light amidst moral ambiguity. In a world that seeks to redefine morality according to human desires, it is imperative that we steadfastly adhere to the unwavering standard of truth and righteousness set forth in Scripture.

IV. IF SEX IS FREE, THEN MAKE ABORTION LEGAL AND MAKE IT EASY: Build clinics for abortion. Health clinics in schools. If people are going to enjoy the joy of sexual relationships, they need to be free of unnecessary fears, such as unwanted pregnancies.

Note: Aligned with this nefarious agenda, abortion has not only become readily accessible but is sometimes coercively imposed. World governments have capitulated to pressures, legalizing this abhorrent practice. While ostensibly presented as a means of reproductive choice, it is in reality a tool of population control, coupled with the widespread dissemination of contraceptives. Consequently, individuals are stripped of their confidence in conceiving, fostering a culture where terminating pregnancies is seen as a convenient solution. Advocates tout abortion as a painless and facile remedy for unwanted pregnancies, epitomizing the ethos of the New Age movement. However, for those who aspire to dwell in the Kingdom of God, it is imperative to renounce the teachings of the New Age. Abortion stands in stark contrast to the divine will. Each unborn child is a precious creation of God, endowed with intrinsic value and purpose, even in the sanctuary of the womb, as affirmed in Jeremiah 1:5 and Psalms 139:13-18. Thus, to align with God's righteousness, we must vehemently oppose the scourge of abortion and champion the sanctity of human life from conception to natural death.

V. MAKE DIVORCE EASY AND LEGAL, FREE PEOPLE FROM THE CONCEPT OF MARRIAGE FOR LIFE: Love has got a mysterious link called the love bond. It is like an ovum that comes out of the ovary. Only one other person in the world can respond to that love bond, when you see that person, everything within you clicks. Get that person at whatever cost, even if it means getting them out of their marriage. Don't be held in bondage by Christian values.

Note: Note: In the sanctity of a Christian union, divorce is not merely discouraged but deemed unacceptable, as God unequivocally expresses His disdain for its dissolution (Malachi 2: 16). Yet, in the era of the New Age, divorce has become tragically commonplace. Governments worldwide have been pressured to legalize and streamline divorce proceedings, perpetuating a culture where marital commitments are easily discarded. The prevalence of prenuptial agreements, meticulously outlining the terms of separation, further underscores this erosion of marital sanctity. Regrettably, this approach sets the stage for marital failure, as individuals enter into unions with one foot out the door, lacking the unwavering commitment essential for a thriving marriage. Marriage, however, serves as a profound reflection of Christ's devotion to His Church. In the biblical analogy, Christ is likened to the bridegroom, and the Church to His beloved bride (Ephesians 5:25-30). Therefore, assaults on the institution of marriage are, in essence, assaults on the divine order established by God Himself. As believers, we are admonished not to conform to the secular worldview but to undergo a transformative renewal of our minds (Romans 12:2). This renewal enables us to discern and align with God's perfect will, resisting the pressures of secularism that seek to undermine the foundational principles of Christianity. In the face of escalating secularism, it is incumbent upon us to steadfastly uphold our faith and boldly proclaim the unadulterated truth of the gospel. Through unwavering devotion to God's Word and the teachings of Christ, we can counteract the pervasive influences of secular culture and preserve the sanctity of marriage as ordained by God.

VI. MAKE HOMOSEXUALITY AN ALTERNATIVE LIFESTYLE: Sexual enjoyment is the highest pleasure in humanity. No one must be restricted on how to enjoy themselves. People should be allowed in whichever way they choose, whether it is homosexuality, incest or bestiality, as long as all parties agree.

Note: Governments worldwide are increasingly pressured to legalize homosexuality, with many already enacting laws that promote it as a viable lifestyle choice. Simultaneously, there's a disturbing trend emerging: churches and Christian organizations are facing legal repercussions for labeling homosexuality as sinful in the eyes of God or for publicly reading Bible verses that condemn it. The LGBTQ movement, wielding significant influence, has even produced its own version of the Bible, signaling a concerted effort to reshape religious narratives. Some churches have taken this further by officiating same-sex marriages and ordaining gay clergy, straying from traditional biblical teachings. Additionally, the normalization of LGBTQ lifestyles is being actively promoted, even to impressionable children, through various forms of media and the education system. However, despite these cultural shifts, the Bible's stance on sexual immorality and homosexuality remains unwavering. Leviticus unequivocally identifies homosexual behavior as an abomination in the eyes of God (Leviticus 18:22; 20:13). As Christians, it is imperative that we adhere to the unchanging truth of Scripture, resisting societal pressures that seek to redefine moral standards.

VII. DEBASE ART, MAKE IT RUN MAD: Promote new forms of art which will corrupt and defile the imagination of people. Art is the language of the spirit, that which is inside, you can bring out in painting, music, acting, drama etc.

Note: In the pursuit of reshaping global culture and instilling new societal norms, the arts, particularly expressive forms, have emerged as pivotal instruments. The consequence is a contemporary cultural landscape where pornography and nudity are often hailed as "artistic expressions," while promiscuity and various forms of immorality are glorified and rewarded. This debasement of art strips away its original purpose of glorifying God and edifying humanity, instead tarnishing souls with impurity. Both the film and music industries have become breeding grounds for satanic imagery and messages, subtly or overtly opposing Christian values. Jeremiah 17:9 reminds us of the inherent deceitfulness of the human heart, a truth vividly reflected in the art prevalent in our world today. Indeed, the artworks we encounter serve as mirrors reflecting the depths of human depravity, echoing the vices and sins Christ warned against in Mark 7:20-23.

VIII. USE MEDIA TO PROMOTE AND CHANGE MINDSET: The greatest channel you need to use to change human attitude is media.

Note: Proverbs 14:15 wisely advises, " The inexperienced one believes anything, but the sensible one watches[a] his steps". In this era of widespread media manipulation, it's imperative that we exercise discernment and remain steadfast against the deceptive narratives peddled by mainstream media outlets. Media platforms, encompassing the press, radio, television, and cinema, wield unparalleled influence, capable of shaping human attitudes and even entire cultures. While media can serve both noble and nefarious purposes, it's crucial to recognize that much of it is controlled by individuals who espouse beliefs aligned with Alice Bailey's New Age ideology. Romans 12:2 reminds us not to conform to the patterns of this world but to undergo a transformation through the renewal of our minds, enabling us to discern the will of God. Manipulating media to disseminate falsehoods goes against the biblical principles of honesty and integrity (Proverbs 12:22), urging us to remain vigilant and anchored in the truth of God's word.

IX. CREATE AN INTERFAITH MOVEMENT: Promote other faiths to be at par with Christianity and break this thing about Christianity as being the only way to heaven, by that Christianity will be pulled down and other faiths promoted.

Note: The emergence of an interfaith movement stands as a pivotal element in the agenda of the New World Order, paving the way for the establishment of a singular world religion—the prophesied entity depicted as the great prostitute in Revelation 17, aligning with the ideology of the Antichrist. This movement traces its origins to the inception of religious ecumenism, which prioritizes unity at the expense of truth. The progression towards this one-world religion is characterized by the proliferation of religious pluralism and interfaith dialogues, advocating the notion that all religions hold equal validity. This misleading concept asserts that diverse religious paths lead to the same destination, blurring the lines between truth and falsehood. Consequently, individuals are pressured to navigate a maze of conflicting beliefs under the guise of unity, often necessitating compromises on foundational truths. Christ's teachings underscore the inherent division between truth and falsehood (Matthew 10:34-39), emphasizing the need for discernment in navigating spiritual paths. Indeed, the message of the cross may appear foolish to those who reject it, but to believers, it embodies the transformative power of God (1 Corinthians 1:18). As such, Christians are called to stand firm in the unchanging truth of the Gospel, even amidst the clamor for a diluted unity that compromises the essence of faith.

X. GET GOVERNMENTS TO MAKE ALL THESE LAW AND GET THE CHURCH TO ENDORSE THESE CHANGES: The church must change its doctrine and accommodate the people by accepting these things and put them into its structures and systems.

Note: Amidst the pervasive influence of the New Age movement, which actively pursues the realization of Alice Bailey's Ten-point Plan agenda, governments worldwide have consistently enacted legislation that contradicts foundational Christian values. These laws, spanning issues from abortion and family planning to the normalization of practices like homosexuality, bestiality, and same-sex marriage, reflect a departure from the moral framework upheld by Christian doctrine. Furthermore, the legalization and acceptance of addictive substances such as marijuana add to the erosion of societal morality orchestrated by this agenda. Despite the divergence between governmental policies and Christian principles, some Christian denominations have regrettably chosen to acquiesce to these societal shifts, forsaking their non-conformist stance in favor of aligning with prevailing trends. Nevertheless, true Christians remain steadfast in their commitment to Scripture, as articulated in Psalms 119:11 says: "I have treasured your word in my heart so that I may not sin against you." This unwavering devotion to God's Word serves as a guiding light amidst the moral relativism of the modern age, anchoring believers in timeless truths that transcend the shifting tides of societal norms.

In conclusion, dear brothers and sisters, let us not be deceived by the cunning schemes of the enemy but stand firm in the faith, rooted in God's Word and empowered by the Holy Spirit. As Ephesians 6:12 reminds us, "For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms" (NIV). May we be vigilant, prayerful, and courageous as we navigate these perilous times, trusting in the Lord's unfailing protection and guidance.
